

Justine 'JT' Thomson
Graduated BA Hons in 2011

After graduating JT worked across a wide range of operas, musicals, touring and fringe productions to slowly build up a varied portfolio of work. Skills learnt in theatre became quickly transferrable to other areas of entertainment industry and this saw a shift towards more event/festival production, producing and music tour management which provided a great balance of creative, technical and management skills.

JT currently runs 'Tourboxx' providing Tour & Production Management for various international touring artists and also freelances as a Producer / Production Mgr - through this she has had the opportunity to work on a variety of indoor and outdoors events, some of which
