

Josh Attwood

My time at Northbrook was one I won't forget. Working with industry professionals and making friends for life. After graduating I've gone on to a number of productions internationally and on the West End. A couple of highlights of my career would be opening Hamilton the musical as deputy head of lighting for Howell Binkley and Cameron Macintosh. Currently I'm Head of Lighting on the Olivier award winning musical 'Come From Away'. A massive thank you to everyone who has helped me along the way, it's a team effort.